Accountability and eliminating entitlement, while still loving yourself is the formula.

It's a balance, like all things, but this is an observation from one mans pov.

Hope this brings some value!

Watch my face, watch my truth.

Tag 1 person, this one can help!

We must recognize how much true kindness actually factors into success and happiness for the person DEPLOYING THE HAPPINESS.

If you're happy pls share it, regardless of what the person does with it, too many have limited their kindness because they are disappointed in the others persons actions once they've given.

I remind my happy friends, giving is giving without expectations, don't confuse giving with manipulation and hopes of getting something when you give 🙌❤️

We continue #whatifwednesdays with the one product I get asked about the most. "Hey @garyvee, when you making an energy drink?" #whatifwednesdays is a series I'm doing around "what if's" things that we could make for fun :) What do you think about this? How many cans a day? Where does it sell? How much? Tag someone who would love this
