It's a very funny, unique, and different type of post for Gary. I think it creatively conveys Gary's biggest goals with his content and achieves those goals simultaneously. But actually, it's just a meme and it made me lol @mr_habitat

Let's play a "Xmas game" 🌲 📺

For the next 24 hours let's take every situation and blindly look for the positive, the silver lining, the opportunity, empathy for the other party, the silly circumstance, the ability to adjust to it tomorrow.

24 hours of positive perspective. Pls leave a comment as things happen in next 24, I'm going to read every comment in this thread.

In 2015 Gary spoke to a classroom of MBA students at USC and his opening line is "I fully fully one hundred thousand percent with no hedge, do not believe you can teach entrepreneurship .. so that's awkward". 😬! This keynote is as raw and powerful as any keynote Gary has given... he always delivers my favorite energy when speaking to students. - @krainak

Introducing the #90secClub : use this hashtag in the first 90 seconds of a post of mine (which is why I posted about notifications in my last post) and leave a comment of things you like, where you live, people you admire, things you are trying to do!

2020 will be the year of #kindnessKarma for me and @teamgaryvee Starting with my new post we will start #kindnessKarma and I am super excited about surprising and delighting you all of 2020!

Practice now by leaving a comment and the hashtag #90SecClub You must like the post and use the hashtag in the first 90 seconds to get surprised

Top 10 Favorite @garyvee Videos #9: Definitely one of my favorite moments filming with Gary. We were backstage about 15min before a keynote and had just finished filming a few right hooks for the podcast. Gary told me to come over and film him eating blueberries and it went from there. I decided right after the moment to mention that I've noticed he devours his food...it wasn't planned but it set him up for a moment to add value to a humorous clip...and now we get a shit load of blueberries sent to the office all the time lol. - @calebralston

We continue in a society to choose $$$ over happiness, it happens in a million versions! Whether you have some $ or don't it regardless, people aren't making happiness the goal, we just aren't, we just aren't :(it must stop, we have to help each other with judgement, insecurities and many other issues to help our society reshape what they are aiming for!

If you're going to do something, do it hard! Whether I'm playing wii tennis in 2011 or replying to a comment or closing a 10million dollar deal for @vaynermedia or looking for a $16 stuffed animal to buy for $0.25 cents at a garage sale or speaking to a new employee or someone in line at a meet up, it's always go hard, it's always go hard! Passion is a gift, lean into it

This young lady is a hero and I admire her so much, I also think this clip will help so many of you!

Also if you replace the word parent and replace it with "friend" "roommate" "sister" "brother" "girlfriend" "boyfriend" ect... my friends, there's never a time to live in negativity, you're far better off to live in a shittier housing situation than a shit atmosphere in your house!

The 2 P's. Perspective and patience are so important, the young man here knows the "play" content that brings his customers value at scale across underpriced platforms whether organic or paid and looking at quantitative and qualitative data to inform more and "better" content, the fancy way to say the shut I've said to him 10000 times I've the last 2-4-6 years. The point of this video is to understand people know that to do, the issue is their relationship with patience, judgement, happiness, self awareness, self esteem ect ect ect ... shits not gonna change my friends, you know the things you need to do, the question is what do we need to do to get your mind in a place to do it 🧠
