I'm starting something new called #whatifwednesdays where every Wednesday I will post a product that has either actually been thought of or something we've pondered at @teamgaryvee

I think this will be a lot of fun and who knows maybe once in awhile I'll actually make a product from "what if"

We started this series with a funny one, @babin (who I'm super proud of) and I've been filming a #dailyvee a few years back and I blurted this idea of making a beef jerky based on him, well here it is!

Would you buy it? How much would it cost?
Have fun with content, it makes these platforms more fun, we need more #creativity and less algorithm hacking

Like my man @divockorigi and I talked about and he's now executing on, so many of you who watch this video are worried about lighting and equipment and so many things that don't matter as much as you think.

If people focused as much on their truth as they did on their filters people would be succeeding more and much happier

I'm competing with everyone ..... 🐮 included.

Who's competitive? Leave a story in the comments about your competitive nature

Too many lead with fear and cynicism
I like #optimism

This is about happiness.
Nothing else.
